Around the Square

Police work in Sierra Madre is mostly dog work. But last week a resident of the Canyon pointed out its importance.

She had high praise—what is usually termed unstinted praise—for Officer Jim Heasley. Here is what she said:

"Terry, a black and white dog, was in a spot—stuck half-way down a sheer 70-foot cliff in back of 582 Woodland Drive. His barking attracted neighbors who called police.

"Officer Jim Heasley came to the rescue. Risking life and limb, he climbed down to where Terry was. Amid joyous barking and much tail wagging, Officer Heasley picked Terry up and got him started on the upward climb.

"Many thanks to Officer Heasley. We know that if he would risk his life to save a little dog, he would take even greater chances to save a human life. And this heroic rescue deserves a lot of thanks."

As for dogs, we think they should have equal justice. When they are picked up and confined to the dog pound, the master must kick through with 25 cents a day for board—plus, of course, impound fees (fine).

The fees are all right. BUT when the old man himself is put in the jug, nobody charges board and room.

A dog in the pokey should have equal status and have no board bill racked up against him.

For some reason or other everybody but the Girl Scouts got credit for the successful Maypole Dance and celebration at the Park last Saturday. It wasn't a public school affair, but the whole doings of the Scouts themselves.

The hard working troop leaders and the Scouts with the dances, song-fest and food sales ended up with the most successful affair the Girl Scouts have attempted.

Postmaster Eddie R. announced this week that at the Post Office he had saved out a couple of "unemployment blanks" for ex-Planning Commissioners Webster Vannier and Frank Spencer.

M.C.B. again has Michael, the airedale, in tow. He didn't like Mr. Montonez. The radio station took him in, but he interfered with the broadcasts. So he was traded for a crate of dates to someone living in a trailer camp. Poor Michael ended up on the end of a chain under the trailer. M.C.B. came to the rescue.

Bob Gillen, manager of The Drapery Shop on the Square, announced that he was in the running for title of "youngest merchant in town." He just turned 30.

Our harbor reporter seldom sends in copy, something for which we are really grateful. Here's what arrived in the mail last week. We can't figure it out, but as long as we pay the guy three cents an inch, we might as well print it:

"A SIERRA MADRE resident, whose name we couldn't catch because of the pounding waves, stood at Pier 3 last week and watched the ship she had been waiting for come in. She had been standing there a long time."

Gilbert Subdivision
Finally Gets an O.K.

R. C. Gilbert, who just a year ago this month applied to the City Planning Commission for permission to subdivide his property, this week was surprised speechless by success.

So was his attorney, Noren Eaton.

This week the Planning Commission walked into the meeting hall from its pre-session "discussion" meeting and very calmly voted an "Okay." A couple of members, however, wiped their brows in relief. Neither Gilbert nor Eaton was present. They had long since given the battle with the Commission up as lost.

Now, however, Gilbert can go ahead and divide his Al-legría avenue property (west of Canon) into four lots.

It had been opposed by ex-Commission Members Frank Spencer and Webster Vannier as "downgrading." The split also had been opposed by nearby residents and former city attorney Tom Reynolds.

City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn, who had been studying the petition which had been re-submitted by Eaton several weeks ago after the Commission had granted similar splits, said that he could find no legal objection to the division inasmuch as subdivisions had been allowed to other applicants.

Eaton, who had been turned down cold before, was surprised to learn of the action. He had figured that the petition, which had been the subject of hot debate last fall and winter, was a "dead duck."

Monrovia
Sets Day for Anniversary

A pretty blond senior at M.A.D. High School, Betty Bailey, will reign as queen of Monrovia Day on May 14 when the city celebrates its 63rd anniversary.

The opening event of the day-long celebration will be a community breakfast for more than 4000 hungry celebrants. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is all set for its big noon barbecue at Library Park when they expect to serve about 2000. Walter Henkel is general chairman of arrangements for the day, sponsored by the Junior Chamber.

The Parade is in the hands of Fred Wilkinson who promises lots of music, lots of color and lots of horses and floats. A three-hour vaudeville show is being lined up. Climax of the day will be a girl's softball game at Clifton Field and the Kiwanis Club and Woman's Club Juniors are staging dances.

Lunsford New President of Youth Council

A permanent community Co-ordinating Council, with Eugene Lunsford as President, was formed in Sierra Madre last Tuesday night and council members elected.

The co-ordinating council will serve as a clearing house for community problems and needs as they are related to youth. It is a co-ordinating body for all youth-serving community organizations and activities.

Other officers elected at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Phillip Woodworth, vice-president; Mrs. James B. Gentry, recording secretary; Mrs. Gay Bettencourt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Conzelman, treasurer.

The council has been in formation for several months. Sparked by the Recreation Commission, the City Council asked a representative of the Los Angeles County Co-ordinating Council to make a survey and determine the need for

Whiskers For Beauty,
Whiskers For Prizes

Whether you have the longest whiskers or the most beautiful, picturesque or unusual, you may come in for a prize when the judging is done for the Pioneer Days Contest, announced Chairman Sid Hamill, this week.

The best beard will cop one prize and the longest whiskers from skin to tip will take another. We assume this means that whiskers can be grown up, down or sideways.

Non-whisker tickets for those who must shave are available for $1, Hamill said. These are numbered and a free favor will be given one of the ticket holders.

Rotary Awards To Local Students

Eight Sierra Madre students attending Wilson Junior High were presented Rotary Honor Awards last week:

Susan Hitchcock, 9-2; Mary McDaniel, 9-2; Susie Griffin, 10-2; Tom Henze, 10-2; Marjorie Scoville, 10-2; Beverly Stundie, 10-2; Sylvia Worthington, 10-2 and John Yden, 10-2.

According to James McMichael, one of the Rotary Awards founders, merits are given to students outstanding in service, leadership, creative contribution and self improvement. Their scholarship grade must average C with no failure marks, and their two citizenship grades must average B with no D's.

There will be a special Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meeting tomorrow night at 8:00, City Hall.

Local Singer
On Heidt
Show Sunday

A voice of Sierra Madre will be heard across the nation Sunday.

Don Bowling, local young baritone, has been chosen to sing on the Horace Heidt program Sunday (May 8) at 7:30 p. m. The station is KFI and it will be an NBC broadcast from Pasadena Civic Auditorium, part of a three-hour benefit program sponsored by the Lions.

Don will sing with Frances Dempster of Pasadena. Their act is one of four chosen from 100 at a recent try-out.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bowling of 200 S. Michillinda, Don is a member of the Congregational Church Choir and appeared as soloist in the recent Community Chorus presentation of the "Crucifixion." He is majoring in forestry at John Muir College where he is in his last year. "Might make a career of music," states his mother.

Shortage of Schools and Teachers Hit

If parents want good schools and good schooling for their children, they must take an active interest in school affairs and school problems, said the Honorable William B. McKesson, Judge of the Los Angeles County Superior Court, last Friday night at the rally closing the observance of Public Schools Week.

Judge McKesson has been for many years a leader in school movements throughout Southern California and was engaged as a speaker on Public Schools programs every night during the past week. His appearance at the program in the

Solicitors

A warning against all solicitors not bearing the Chamber of Commerce letter of approval was sent out by the Chamber this week.

"Demand a letter of clearance from the Chamber," said president Al Morgan. "We have a questionnaire which we request all individuals and organizations to fill out. The Chamber then investigates the validity of the solicitors."

The Chamber also asked all organizations who plan solicitation of the merchants and townspeople to first clear through the Chamber. Letters will be sent to all organizations asking full co-operation.

Mrs. Rosalie Goodwin, Chamber secretary, urged all organizations to call her in dating events and meetings so that they can be recorded on the community calendar to prevent overlapping.

COME SING!

The Community Chorus needs help.

Anyone who likes or wants to sing is urged by Director Stewart Matter to join the group. The Chorus is short of voices in all sections—alto, soprano, tenor and bass.

The Chorus rehearses every Monday night in the school auditorium at 8 p. m. A June concert is now in preparation.

"Remember the remarkable 'Messiah' performance," Director Matter said. "The June concert promises to be even better. Come out next week and sing."

Bigelow Is Named
Chairman of City
Planning Com.

Bayard Bigelow this week was chairman of the City Planning Commission. He was elected by the other commissioners at their last meeting.

He succeeds Mrs. May de Wright. She served the unexpired term of Frank Spencer who resigned as chairman several months ago.

Two new members also took their places on the Commission. Mrs. A. E. Morgan and W. W. Gildersleeve. They were appointed last week by the City Council to fill the posts of Webster Vannier, who resigned, and Frank Spencer, who declined reappointment on the expiration of his term.

Mrs. Morgan, as predicted exclusively by the NEWS last week, was named Commission secretary.

P. D. Dance
Underway

The old-time dance inaugurating Pioneer Days of '49 will be one of the hits of the season, promised Lucille Eaton, Dance Chairman, this week. The affair will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Eaton was named dance chairman at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and committee heads are Bob Green, Don Jackson, Lucille Marmion, Betty Conzelman, June Lunsford, Gordon MacMillan and Mrs. Ted Stetson. Mrs. Stetson will take special charge of square dancing for the younger groups.

Two square dance callers will be engaged and the streets will be roped off for dancing. The tennis courts at the park may be engaged for the younger groups.

Further definite plans for the dance will come from the committee this week, Mrs. Eaton said.

Pasadena Planners
Hold Up Catholic
Hi-School Division

Mixed sentiments were expressed this week in connection with the proposed construction of a Catholic high school on the southwest corner of Sierra Madre boulevard and Michillinda avenue.

And the Pasadena Planning Commission put over until May 12 any decision on the Roman Catholic Archbishop's petition for a zoning variance in the residentially zoned area.

Protestants appeared before both the Pasadena commission and the Sierra Madre Planning Commission, but the latter pointed out that it had no jurisdiction.

The school, to be located on a ten acre site, is scheduled for completion by September 1, 1950, if the zoning exception is granted by Pasadena.

It will be built to accommodate 1000 boys and girls. On the west side of the school, a stadium with bleachers will be built. Parking space for 150 cars will be provided.

After hearing protests from R. D. Andrews, 692 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Barkman, 40 S. Michillinda avenue, City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn told the Commission:

"You can make any recommendation that you see fit to Pasadena because of the site's proximity to Sierra Madre, but they are not bound by your recommendation. They have sole jurisdiction."

Commission Member Bayard Bigelow and Councilman Herman Barter pointed out that there was insufficient off-street parking in the area. On their recommendation, the Commission called on Pasadena to see that more parking space is provided for cars of students and teachers.

Mrs. Barkman and Andrews pointed out that the school in an R-1 zone would be a detriment to real estate values, and cars would be forced to park all day at the curb.

Councilman William A. Kinney said he was highly in favor of the new school.

Strictly ham and strictly for fun is the Civic Club's local talent show beginning a two-day run tomorrow night at the school auditorium.

Obstacles which seemed insurmountable during the past week are surmounted and the show will go on at 8:08, come out-of-town producers or high water, Civic Club officials said.

Special coaches and directors Bonnie Hoover, Sally Clark and Marge Rizzo have been conducting concentrated rehearsals of the cast for the big variety show. All local talent and variety acts will be used. Winners in the Tiny Tot Baby Contest will come into the picture to receive loving cups and gifts. Three winning boys and three winning girls will be selected by the public voting for the children whose pictures are displayed in local business places through this week. There are almost 50 contestants to vote for, reported Marion Eyre, Chairman.

The show is a take-off on present day newspapers. Various scenes and acts come to life from the pages of the paper. A roving reporter will interview members of the audience and pass out favors. Bill

Schmidt will take on this role. Young Tommy Flennekin will introduce the show as the newsboy hawking his papers. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stetson will become Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public for the evening, while first grade teacher Mrs. Abbey Pascoe will be Cousin Katy. Mrs. Pascoe's first grad-

The team already has 16 men signed up but there are places for a few more, Nordgren said. The starting line-up will be announced soon.

Uniforms will be issued to players this week, said the coach. The team is sponsored by local Legion Post 297. The schedule for games was issued today, and the names of fields or parks where the games will be played will be out next week, Nordgren said. The schedule is as follows:

VOLUNTER FIREMAN INJURED WEDNESDAY

A test blast of the fire siren sent volunteer fireman Marvin Thomas, 381 Mt. Wilson Trail, on his motorcycle down Baldwin avenue on the double yesterday. At Grandview and Baldwin avenues a near collision resulted between Thomas and a car making a left turn from Grandview north on Baldwin.

Thomas' motorcycle skidded, throwing him to the pavement. Dr. T. A. Wynne was called and removed Thomas to his office. Thomas suffered a sprained ankle and bruises. Neither driver was held.

The alarm on the fire siren was being changed and during the repair, the best blast was sounded at about 12:30. Second tests produced no like results.

Subdiv. Law Changes Are Asked

Changes in the city's year-old subdivision ordinance which would make small lot divisions almost automatic, were recommended this week to the Planning Commission.

The recommendations were made by a special committee appointed by the Commission to study Subdivision Ordinance No. 469. The proposals for change were made unanimously by its members, Harry A. Lange, Chairman, Judge John C. Mead, A. E. Morgan, George E. Osborn and R. C. Lewis.

The Planning Commission will hold a meeting this month to consider the recommendations.

The committee suggested that the definition of "subdivision" in the city law be changed to conform to the state's definition.

The state declares a "subdivision" to be one in which there is a division of land into five or more contiguous lots during a single year. Such a division requires state approval.

Under the city law, a subdivision is any splitting of a lot—thus giving the Planning Commission control over all lot divisions.

The committee also asked that Section 14 of the law be rewritten to define minimum area and frontage in residential areas and then change the zoning ordinance to conform to these requirements.

Under such a change the city would require a residential lot to be a minimum of 7500 square feet and with at least 60 feet of street frontage.

Any lot to be divided or sold should front on a dedicated street, the committee said.

"This will put control of any metes and bounds subdivision and of lots fronting on easement streets squarely in the hands of the Planning Commission and the City Council," the committee's report said.

"With the redefinition of a subdivision the division or sale of lots fronting on existing streets will be permitted, provided minimum area and frontage requirements are met," the report continued.

"Success in the application of any ordinance is due generally to the spirit in which it is interpreted and the manner in which it is enforced," the committee said, "and the Planning Commission should have the duty to hear and determine applications for exceptions from the lot standards, as described in the ordinance."

Since the ordinance was first put into effect more than a year ago, it has been the Commission's major source of friction—both among Commission members and with the public.

It is believed that the Commission will formulate a recommendation for changes in the law by its next meeting. This will then be submitted to the City Council for action.

Paint-up, Clean-up Combat Bugs, Germs

Bugs and germs have little chance to breed under fresh paint and in clean yards and vacant lots, J. H. McDermott, chief area sanitation inspector for the Monrovia health district said in commenting on the spring clean-up and paint-up campaign being waged in this community.

"Dirty and over-full garbage pails invite flies to back yards and alleys," the sanitarian said, "and piles of accumulated trash are harboring places for rats and other rodents."

VFW Officer Looks At Employment

The current rising tide of unemployment in Los Angeles, especially among veterans in the residential construction industry, can be curbed by immediate enactment by Congress of the "Veterans Home Loan Act of 1949," H. F. Dunton, western member of the new national housing committee, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, declared recently.

Expressing concern over increasing unemployment of veterans in the home construction industry and other industries as well, were: Arthur H. Tryon, executive director, Veterans Service center, Los Angeles, and Lloyd A. Mashburn, secretary, Building Trades Council of Los Angeles.

Tryon pointed out that the trend of unemployment during the past 30 days has been alarming, and that increasing ranks of unemployed recently is far more serious than can be attributed to seasonal declines.

"Our growing problem of unemployment among veterans," he said, "is becoming serious. At the present time more than 60,000 veterans in the Los Angeles area are actually registered for unemployment compensation."

Mashburn reported that "many veterans who are apprentices seeking to learn a trade for their future livelihood are included in the current unemployed rolls in the home building industry. Passage of the 'Home Loan Act of 1949' will fill the dinner pails of construction workers not only in Southern California but throughout the nation."

Dunton explained that the number of jobless could have been greatly reduced by top Veterans Administration officials in Washington, D. C., had they exercised authority granted by Congress to maintain a high volume of financing for GI home loans by adjusting the 4 per cent interest rate. Carl R. Gray, he said, has refused to make a realistic adjustment of the GI interest rate to make it competitive with FHA loans, despite the fact that the 80th Congress authorized him to do so.

'HAVE A HEART' TAG DAY SATURDAY

The Volunteers of America will conduct a "Have A Heart" tag day in Sierra Madre on Saturday, when local children will sell heart tags to help raise funds for destitute mothers with children and other unfortunate in care of the organization.

The drive is being sponsored by a local committee comprised of: Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, Rev. Harley G. Smith, Fr. Leo. Scheibel, Rev. Carl Smith, Mr. F. D. R. Moore, Mrs. Clyde Hoover, Mrs. Rosalie Goodwin and Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, with Mrs. Ruth Borneman in charge of young people's work in headquarters at the City Hall.

The Volunteers of America was founded by General Ballington and Mrs. Maud Booth 53 years ago and has received nationwide commendation on its humanitarian activities. They maintain homes for children, homes for the aged, homes for destitute girls, fresh air summer camps for underprivileged children, as well as relief stations where food, clothing, lodging and medical aid are provided for the needy.

Sierra Madre merchants have generously offered prizes to the children who secure the largest amounts for their tags. The cause is most worthy and the Committee hopes each citizen will have "two hearts" on Saturday, one of their own and one to help an unfortunate.

Outline Program For Street Improvements Here

Ed. Note: Following is the fifth of a series of articles compiled by Howard W. Brod, former city engineer, before leaving here to become city manager of San Carlos. This report is now before the Sierra Madre City Council.

BY HOWARD W. BROD
STREET DEPARTMENT

STREET IMPROVEMENTS—Too much stress cannot be placed on the importance of properly accounting for disbursements on street improvements and it is recommended that accounts be broken down into as many details as practicable.

It is further recommended that the city does not fail to budget its share of tax money for maintenance expenses in advance of the end of the year in order that all money available for maintenance be budgeted.

If maintenance money is not budgeted in time it is transferred to the construction account which is not a particularly desirable thing for the City of Sierra Madre at the present time because construction money can be used only on major streets.

CONSTRUCTION—Grades and Cross-sections—The grades of the reconstructed streets shall generally conform to the existing street grade. The cross-section of the proposed streets shall be flatter and in conformation with the more modern cross-sections which eliminate the high crown streets generally found in Sierra Madre.

General Specifications—All rubble curbs and gutters shall be replaced with concrete.

All cross-culverts shall be replaced by smooth transition sumps. All curb returns shall be reconstructed to a minimum radius of 20 feet.

All driveways shall be constructed to conform with the standard driveway entrance adopted by the city as shown in Exhibit "B" of this report.

Inspection—Thorough inspection of all work under contract is absolutely necessary if good work is to be obtained. Faulty work has been accepted by the City of Sierra Madre in the past not only due to no inspection but also due to inspection being done by unqualified inspectors.

It is recommended that Mr. Harvey Steinberger be employed as inspector for any contract work that is one. Mr. Steinberger is especially well-qualified for any type of inspection or construction work.

Storm Drains—The future design of the street system of the City of Sierra Madre depends to great extent on what is done with the problem of street drainage.

The United States government has authorized the construction of two large storm drain trunks; one on Lima Street and the other on Baldwin Avenue. However, to date no allocation has been made to provide funds for such a project. Perhaps it is being shelved as a future depression project.

Nevertheless, it is of considerable importance that it be determined whether or not future street construction or reconstruction should be based on anticipation that the proposed storm drain trunks will be constructed or whether street design should not predicate said storm drains and be based on the conditions that actually exist.

The Navy's new 180 passenger Lockheed "Constellation", largest transport-type aircraft in the world, makes a jet-assisted (JATO) take-off. The Constellation will be open to public inspection for the first time at Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank on the 4th and 5th of May. The public is invited between the hours of noon and 8 p.m.

It was the plan, in budgeting tax money for Baldwin Avenue reconstruction, to eliminate the open ditch drainage and replace same with a pipe culvert.

The advantages of such an improvement are manifold. It would result in a safer street by eliminating the open ditch hazard; it has been difficult and costly to maintain the ditch in a clean and sanitary condition; increased street parking facilities will become available; a wider street and better appearance will result with subsequent increased land values to the property owners and a general enhancement of the city. The problem to be solved is:

How large shall the storm drain be? Shall we provide for a one-year frequency run off, a five-year frequency run off or a fifty-year frequency run off?

The answer depends on what can be assumed regarding future government storm drain construction and also how large a storm drain is justified on a temporary basis. Funds for the storm drain will probably have to be provided by Sierra Madre on a matching basis with State money.

The argument should be presented to the State, when the plans are offered for approval, that the reconstruction of the storm drain is made necessary by the widening of the street. Under the provisions which govern disbursement of state gas tax money, tax money could be allocated to cover the entire cost of the storm drain. However, there is some question as to whether this idea can be sold to the State officials. At least an all out effort should be made to do so. I would recommend installing a pipe to serve as a storm drain of a capacity equal to the capacity of the present open ditch.

A storm drain will also be required on the south side of Sierra Madre Boulevard from Auburn to Baldwin.

The State of California prefers that construction work be done by private contract, although this is not a requirement. I am not in accord with this method of procedure at this time for the City of Sierra Madre for the following reasons: (1) We have adequate equipment to do the work ourselves. (2) We have experienced personnel to direct and do this work. (3) The impact of current economic forces is such that it is time to place more importance on the economic stability of our own community. Unemployment is increasing and business trends are downward. A contractor from outside the community would bring in his own crews, who would spend their income in their own communities. Furthermore, the City of Sierra Madre would indirectly be paying travel expenses for all these outside workers.

The State representative has stated that the purpose of state gas tax expenditures is to provide good streets by the most economical means available and is not intended to form the basis for relief projects.

However, our part of the state tax money is ours and we should be realistic about today's economic conditions. Inasmuch as Sierra Madre already has the construction equipment that is necessary to do the work, together with the "know-how", I recommend that Sierra Madre do the work on a day labor basis and not make equipment rental charges against the project. This would result in a desirable improvement in the local economy.

Grand View, Orange Grove and Michillinda Improvement.—It is recommended that the cities of Arcadia and Pasadena be contacted regarding maintenance and improvement of the streets bounding these cities.

Sierra Madre should vacate the portions of these streets beyond the center lines of same where they are contiguous to other cities' boundaries, or arrangements should be made whereby adjoining cities will bear their just share of maintaining and improving these streets.

PARDON US, but we're all gitchy gitchy goolie this week at the BALLING BABY SHOP, Monrovia 20411.

EVERYBODY I meet laughs at me just because I start hollering a block away that "She's the most beautiful baby I've ever seen in my life!" One friend I met even took the words right out of my mouth and said with an exaggerated understanding, "Yes, I know, it's the most beautiful baby in the world!" But it's true. She IS the most beautiful baby in the world!

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, this is National Baby Week. We really started the week off with a bang at the Balling Baby Shop. I might say in connection with the national event that we have everything for new babies at the Balling Baby Shop... we even have the new baby.

THIS of course has given jesting friends excellent material for all kinds of helpful suggestions. For example, now we can do more thorough study of merchandising at the Balling Baby Shop by actual experiment and research into the triangle method versus the square method, and washable versus disposable diapers.

OR, when I am elected baby sitter for an evening, I can put Kathleen Gene in the window at the Balling Baby Shop, where she can model the latest in infants wear and play with the new toys, attracting many more window shoppers than just mannikins would.

DATE FOR YOU

Don't forget the Camporee May 21 and 22. For you Scouts who are getting awards at the next Court, the deadline is Monday after Camporee.

WITH THE CUBS

The Cubs recently elected new leaders for the ensuing year, and we find W. O. Balenger as Cubmaster; Ralph Hurwit, Assistant Cubmaster, and Hugh McCrum as Treasurer. The pack got off to a good start when Mr. Dreager took Den One on a deep sea fishing trip. They had a 100 per cent turnout, and a lot of fun.

MOUNTEERING

Troop Four had a weekend in the San Gabriel Canyon repairing check dams, and practicing for Camporee. Fourteen boys and three leaders participated in the venture.

CUB PACK CORRAL

If a Cub Scout comes to your door selling tickets for their Annual Cub Pack Corral for twenty-five cents, try to avail yourself to go. It is June 4 and 5, at the Santa Anita racetrack, and you will really see some swell exhibits made by the younger boys. I have seen the program, and it will be a full two days of awesome enjoyment for you.

BRUSH AND COMB

We finally got the Scout Monument in the park cleaned up. The Pine Tree Patrol of Troop Four gave it a good bath and brushing, besides polishing the bronze plaque.

FISH—WHERE?

Yours truly was one of the fishermen who thought that the farther away from home you get, the better the fishing. We drove 'round the other side of the mountains, got up bright and early the first day of the season—but we came home with nothing but a good sunburn.

The excellent organization, co-operation and team work of all who worked to make possible such a beautiful pageant of Girl Scouts and Brownies on Saturday deserves special praise and tribute.

The girls will have something to remember always. The beautiful singing, the Maypole, the decorations, the booths, and last but not least, the lovely dances, will be something for us, too, to think about for a long time. A very charming ending was the offering of bouquets by the little Brownies to the "Grown-Ups."

As a mother of two of the Brownies, I want to thank everyone who made it all possible.

Guatemala Trip On "Rare Bug" Expedition Agenda

Preparations are being made by E. Graywood Smyth, associate curator of entomology at the Los Angeles County Museum, for a scientific expedition to the wilds of Guatemala in search of two exceptionally rare insects.

One of the specimens is the huge, gorgeous rainbow grasshopper, or locust, whose wings when expanded, measure over nine inches across. The body and forewings of this rare insect are a vivid emerald green.

The other rare insect to be sought by the entomologist is the giant rhinoceros beetle with a body over four inches long and a wing spread of more than eight inches. It is encased in a shining brown armor that looks like burnished ivory. The insect has a heavy curved tusk over an inch long on its head and two heavy side horns on the thorax which give it an awesome and very formidable appearance.

The entomologist plans to leave Los Angeles the latter part of May and travel by automobile down the Pan-American Highway to the Guatemala border.

Laura Cadmus Bezotte Tells of Philippine Life

After a three-month stay in the Philippines, Mrs. Fred Bezotte (Nee Laura E. Cadmus), has returned to her Sierra Madre home, 607 Woodland Drive. She arrived here March 30, after a five-day trip via Northwest Airlines with stops in Shanghai, Tokyo, She-mya, (an island in the Aleutians), Anchorage, Alaska, and Seattle. In San Francisco she purchased a new car and drove the rest of the way.

Mrs. Bezotte was in the Philippines visiting her husband, a diamond drill contractor, who is presently engaged in government work putting in test holes for the new dam site at Batangas. Because Mr. Bezotte's contracts will probably continue for some time and because he is also waiting for his war damage claim, (a lengthy process), Mrs. Bezotte expects eventually to re-join him in the Islands. At this time Mr. Bezotte is stationed in the back country and there are no living accommodations.

In an interview with the NEWS, Mrs. Bezotte remarked, "It's a good thing I left when I did; the hot rainy season was just commencing and the mosquitoes were terrific! While the American government had control the streets were sprayed, but now the pest-precautionary methods have been relaxed."

Living costs in Manila, she says, are extremely high. Their merchandise shelves are stocked with items still hard to obtain in this country. Traffic is plentiful and poorly directed. "Although Manila is in some respects an up-to-date city," reports Mrs. Bezotte, "the poor people are crowded into hovels, sometimes from 10 to 30 persons in a hovel, along the main thoroughfares. The United States Government tried to provide housing for the needy."

She stayed mostly at the Manila Hotel and made frequent sight seeing trips. The island interior is reportedly beautiful and similar to California, except for the foliage. An outstanding event was a visit to the famous Carmelite Convent in Lipa City, where the miracle of the falling rose petals occurs. People flock there by the thousands to be healed.

Another of her visits was with Sierra Madrean, Bill Burr, who operates one of the largest restaurants in Manila.

Mrs. Bezotte feels that the general American opinion there during this Philippine "Presidential Year," is that, if Laurel, an anti-American candidate, wins, the American dollar will gradually be withdrawn, eventually eliminating the American businessman over there.

Don (pantomime) Miller recently presented his well-known acts at the Sans Souci in Indio, Calif. He is also a top contender on a KFI talent audition.

EDDYS IN NEWPORT YACHT RACE TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Gould Eddy, 101 E. Alegria, will be among the contestants in the Governor's Regatta, beginning today and held between Newport and Ensenada, Mexico.

The Eddy's boat, the Santa Lucia 2nd, is entered in the Dunnigan Thirty class, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddy with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Currie of Santa Monica will be crewing.

The race starts at noon sharp; according to Mrs. Eddy they expect it will take them at least thirty hours to reach Ensenada.

One of the biggest races in the country, the boats of all classifications competing will be in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty. Saturday night the Mexican Government will be host to a huge party for all contestants.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy will stay at the newly decorated Hotel Rivera Pacifico while there.

FILM SHOWN NATIONAL GUARD

Four films were shown Heavy Mortar Company National Guardsmen at their meeting last week in the City Hall Dug-out. Two pictures were on camouflage and two were on firing the M-1 rifle.

Among officers present were Capt. Embree, Capt. McKown, Lieut. Matheson, Sgt. Moss and Cpl. Fish.

Capt. Sanford M. Ullman is attempting to promote interest in social gatherings to be held once or twice a month following the regular Guard meeting Monday nights.

Sierra Madre School auditorium was a feather in the cap of City Judge John Mead, who secured him as speaker and introduced him. His speech evoked much enthusiasm and much comment.

Judge McKesson lamented the shortage of competent teachers and stated that the shortage amounted to more than 90,000 in the past year. He said that there were 2 1/2 million more children registered in schools for the first time this past year than ever before.

"Many children will never know a full day of school until they reach the fifth grade," Judge McKesson said, "because of the dire school housing shortage." Long range plans must be made, he stated, for both teacher training and school building, if the public schools system is to improve or even maintain its standards.

Students winning in the essay contest sponsored by the V. F. W. on the value of our schools to us were: Marian Straughn, first prize; Karen Curtis, second and Phyllis Nipp, third.

Contestants in the American Legion Oratorical contest dealt with "The Advantages of Being and American." Taking top places were Freddie Penn, Dick Thorgirson, Janet Peterson, and Carole Tarullo.

The winners in the poster contest on "Our School," sponsored by the Masonic Lodge, were: Luz Silva, first; Sharon Plaskett, second; Josephine Varella, third; Tom Hutter fourth and Billy Dane, fifth.

such a council in Sierra Madre. Dwight Ramage was sent by the County Council and worked with the temporary steering committee on the formation of the body.

The original steering committee was under the presidency of Sam McElfresh and its members were Mrs. John Conzelman, Mrs. E. Carver, Milton Goldberg, Hi Yodow, Mrs. Don Wells, Charles Skutt, Henry Nuetzel and Gordon McMillan.

Tuesday night's meeting got under way with organizational work and the council set the first Tuesday of each month as regular meeting date. Meetings will be held at the Youth Hut. Committees will be appointed later.

Pasadena Planners

"We have no high school in Sierra Madre," he said. "It seems to me that it is an advantage rather than a disadvantage."

He pointed out that St. Ritas Parish here was called on to provide $5000 toward the $500,000 school project and that Sierra Madre residents had over-subscribed & submitted $6000.

Cornyn said that any recommendation of the Sierra Madre Planning Commission had to consider the city as a whole. He added, however, that Sierra Madre residents who will be affected by the school's proximity have a right to appear before the Pasadena Planning Commission.

The Commission, on petition of R. K. Thayer, owner of the Wistaria Vine property, set May 26 for a hearing on a variance for remodeling the small house at 201 1/2 W. Carter avenue. The structure does not now conform to building standards or setback, and he wishes to maintain its non-conforming use.

Thayer also sought a similar variance for a house at 571 N. Hermosa avenue. But Cornyn pointed out that a separate application would have to be made.

A setback variance was allowed Don Schindler for a garage at 397 N. Lima street. He asked that he be allowed to build a garage 25 feet from the street which would not be connected to the house to be built at the rear of the lot. To move the garage back, he said, many trees would have to be removed.

The Commission held back for further investigation a petition of Phillip R. Oiler, 672 Brookside Lane, for a setback variance for a garage at 401 Churchill road.

Lloyd B. Warmack was allowed a request for a subdivision at 642 W. Orange Grove avenue. He plans to convert two lots, now 54 feet and 66 wide, into two 60 foot lots.

Stanley C. Pasco of 235 Churchill road was granted permission to subdivide and sell the portion of his lot fronting on Sturtevant drive.

The City Council was asked to investigate a complaint of Al Miller, 550 North Hermosa avenue, that a hedge at 170 W. Carter avenue prohibits the use of the easement as a sidewalk and constitutes a traffic and fire hazard. The city attorney pointed out that it was a police matter and not one of planning.

Leo E. Blakeman was granted a setback variance to build a new home on Vista Circle drive. Because of the grade, he was given permission to build his home within two feet of the street.

A letter was ordered sent to the County Regional Planning Commission pointing out that "any action taken to further the northward extension of Baldwin avenue toward Foothill boulevard" would be highly desirable.

The County now has plans for extending Baldwin from Huntington Drive to Colorado street in the near future. The master plan also calls for eventual construction from Colorado to Foothill.
